5.1 SET Domestic Abuse Update

Alison Gilmour

- Released domestic homicide thematic review – a learning for partners
- Stalking is high risk and was last year's campaign. Resources are available on the web site
- Coercive control is still an issue and was feature of the conference this year
- Complex needs continue to be a risk factor – in particular substance misuse and mental health
- Health agencies were involved in all DHR cases and there is a reformed health group to address.
- There is learning to be had with the links of dementia and Domestic abuse, and strategy for learning for professionals is being developed
- There are still issues regarding friends and family where they know what's happening but not sure on how to deal with it. Need to focus on community awareness

Cllr JR said there is a fear of the unknown if do come forward

AG responded need to do more preventative work

- Looking at perpetrator work which is going into 2021 and also carrying on the Goodman project.
- 2021-2024 planning commissioning perpetrators services. Ambition is for strategy to look at whole SET contracts and support for families and prevention work

BO asked about timescales

AG responded consultation will start by end of month

- Training sessions will be available on ELearning for DASH and MARAC
- This year's communication plan will link to substance misuse and complex needs
- There is also partnership work on a report by LGBTQ+ community

Cllr JR asked about any work in schools.

AG advised on Risk Avert

ACo there was operation Encompass launched last week, where 25 schools signed up.

The aim of this is that the schools will get notified the next morning if any domestic abuse happens.

The safeguarding teams will be made aware and talks will happen with the pupil.

Southend will be on board in a couple of months and includes colleges.

VAWG Strategy 20/23

5.2 2 women have been killed nationally from the beginning of 2020 which shows how serious this issue is.

Priscilla Tsang

PT advised that this was Thurrock's third VAWG strategy and that the strategic group and consultation recommended that the title of VAWG be retained and the national definition

There are 8 crimes which are included within the strategy which follows the national strategy:

1. Sexual violence abuse and exploitation

2. Sexual harassment
3. Domestic abuse and violence
4. Female genital mutilation
5. Stalking
6. Modern day slavery
7. Forced marriage
8. And so called honour based abuse

The data within the strategy demonstrates that this is a gender biased crime. PT advised that no other district in Essex has a VAWG strategy – although some London Boroughs do

The VAWG conference we held back in September looked at the different titles and consultation confirmed that the title should be retained or we may lose the focus.

The vision recognises that all services are open to all genders and not just women and girls.

Data backs up nationally and locally that women are more likely to be victims

PT advised there will be 5 key factors within the strategy:

- Positive communities – as discussed by AG
- Prevention: Prevention work will include education from Sept as per Government guidelines
- Partnership – this is strong in Thurrock and across Essex
- Provision – need to respond to individual needs
- Protection – linked to the SETDAB perpetrator programme but also developing work locally to address need

Cllr JR raised concerns around engaging with communities and going into primary schools.

PT advised she was in contact with children's centres which has different communities. Regarding the schools it's a government set programme which will be aimed at all schools. She also advised regards J9 going out to communities, including faith sector

JD added that outreach was being provided by housing including Childrens centres

ML suggested the need to reflect changing behaviours and acknowledged that whilst the title presents difficulty do understand the rationale

Discussion on language and the word crime is a difficult word as most of what the police attend isn't crime. It may need to be changed to a more technical word.

Criminal Justice isn't really mentioned and also probation including brighter futures.

PT agreed to look at the language and include more on the perpetrator work in Thurrock

JRo emphasised need to make it clear that the strategy is for men and boys and the support that is available to them

Shelia – advised that SERICC provides a service for everyone and it is clear that the data shows this. She emphasised that from research if the title is not retained aspects will be lost

CS advised Essex Police have done a full review of this and have tried to make all policies gender neutral and expressed concern therefore that at odds with this proposed strategy.

JRo expressed that she was clear that professional advice had been sought and rationale agreed and that there should continue to be an emphasis on VAWG.

There was also concern that the strap line could be confusing as its contradicting its title with gender.

SC concluded that the government is refreshing their strategy and will be retaining the National VAWG strategy which Thurrock was in line with.

JRo summarised the recommendations which the Board agreed

Bystander intervention

- 5.3 ML outlined the programme of 8 sessions as a package which has been evaluated by University of Essex and would be appropriate to take into the campuses of colleges in Thurrock and requested drive locally to implement. Martin Lucas

MC – have good partnerships with the colleges but sixth forms may be more difficult. Agreed to share with colleges and discuss further with SG how include 6th forms from September.

Sexual Violence and Abuse JSNA

- 5.4 MP outlined that the partnership had produced a document which set out where at and where want to get to. The report includes the view of survivor and professionals. She summarised: Maria Payne

- Support is fragmented for services.
- Mental health is a common problem
- There are links to self-harm and suicide
- There are 11 children on a CP plan due to sexual abuse
- There is disparity between those receiving specialist support and no of recorded crimes
- Evidence suggests survivors speak to GPs but not recording referrals to specialist survivor groups
- Prevention needs a clear focus and links to the work starting in schools in September
- Looking at a long term response and a toolkit approach
- Review of training for professionals
- Need to get a message out to communities
- Governance for this will be through the health and wellbeing board where it will be signed off
- A summit is being held in March
- Seeking to establish a sexual violence and abuse partnership group

JRo confirmed that she had already had a presentation at the VAWG strategic group and welcomed the opportunity to have further dialogue through the consultation event

Cllr JR said this was a passionate and good report. She went on to say that the youth today find it hard to talk to someone, they have been taken over by social media. She stressed importance of youth cabinet.

JD – expressed problem for survivors is having to tell their story over and over again which can't be pleasant and services need to find a way to tackle this.

SC thanked public health for taking this forward following SERICCs conference

Sexual Exploitation Strategy and action Plan

- 5.5 The multi-agency task and finish group has identified links between the CSP and 2 strategic objectives. Learnings were taken from joint serious case reviews Development of strategy and action plan is underway and will be a subset of the Sexual violence and abuse JSNA with a clearer focus on adults and in particular transition. Levi Sinden

A suicide prevention paper was taken to the H & WB board in September setting out the national priorities and where possible mapped to what we know in Thurrock

She advised there was funding available to bid on for:
- Primary care
 - Education
 - After care
- And that the primary target group was middle aged men and campaigns needed to be directed towards them. She advised that there was a suicide prevention board in place across Essex.
- LS explained that the executive of the adult safeguarding board had looked at enquiries into missing adults and 1 in 20 were looking to take their own life
CS suggested that BTP used to have a suicide prevention plan for named individuals and there may be some learnings to take from there.
